DETAILED ACTIONResponse to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6 July 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to the rejection under 37 U.S.C. 101 set forth in the previous Office Action of 31 March 2006, Applicant presents arguments as to why Applicant believes the recited invention is useful, functional, concrete, and tangible, and that it has practical applicability. The Examiner does not dispute that the invention is useful, concrete, or functional, or that it has potential practical applications. Rather, the rejection was based on the fact that the inventions set forth in claims 1-53 fail to recite a tangible result. The rejection is based on the fact that, as claimed, the invention merely performs abstract calculations (albeit potentially useful and concrete) in that it simply performs an abstract estimation and does not provide any tangible output based on that estimation. Such a tangible result must be positively recited in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

In view of the response to arguments set forth above, the rejection of these claims as set forth in the previous Office Action of 31 March 2006 is carried forward and maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
